WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

om our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 30, 1895.

During the past week, the Wall Street arkets have retained the aspects of genral recovery apparent for the two prevus weeks. The accession of confidence mong investors is apparent in a still rge demand for bonds and for the high- class of railroad shares. The specula- ve interest shows no abatement; but naurally, after the advance of last week, here has been considerable selling to ealize profits. It deserves notice, howver, that these sales have had much less ffect upon prices than might have been xpected, one set of operators being ready o take what others deem it prudent to ll; which is significant evidence of the nproved market valuation of securities nd of a conviction that prices are destind to a still higher range of values.

London continues to exhibit renewed onfidence in our securities. There has een no important realizing here on acount of that market, and the operations n the London Exchange are assuming quite active phase. It is evident that ritish investors have regained, in an imortant measure, their former confidence n our investments. That first condition f buying having been realized, there are ther helpful consequences that are likely follow. Nearly everything dealt in on he London Exchange has been forced up y recent speculation to unreasonably gh prices; and the main thing in which is now possible to create an exciting inrest is new gold mining enterprises, hich are being extensively organized and ost of which appear to be of a very dubus and unattractive character. Improved onfidence in our obligations and their rrent relatively low prices, together ith the prospect of their increased earng capacity, can hardly fail to restore ry materially the demand for American vestments. The extent to which this urce of demand might alternately develo may be inferred from the fact that the nount of our stocks and bonds returned 1893 and 1894, under the effects of the ver scare, has been generally estimated not less than $200,000,000. The amount gold bearing bonds exported last week as $200,000,000; but this week the shipents have been light.

This revival on the London market is portant as having a direct bearing on he foreign exchanges. As it was almost ntirely the return of securities that aused the extraordinary exports of gold uring the late depression, so the renewa f exports of these obligations will tend to old the shipments of specie in check, hereby facilitating the restorative work f the Loan Syndicate and strengthing the osition of the United States Treasury. It s also a matter of some weight, in our relations with European investors, that here is now every assurance of an immedate return to a state of general national prosperity. As a state of panic and depression has always an unfavorable effect upon the foreign credit of a nation, so a state of prosperity encourages confidence, for the plain reason that industrial activity is conductive to good earnings and diminishes the risk of investments. It may be said that we have not yet escaped from the unfavorable contingencies connected with silver; which is true. But do the United States stand alone in that respect? Judging from the accounts that reach us, the commerce of Great Britain and her dependencies is suffering much more than ours from this cause. And in Germany the important agrarian interest has espoused the cause of bi-metallism with an energy which show that country to be vitally concerned in the silver question. Indeed it may be seriously questioned whether, as a political issue there is more danger of unwholesome legislation on the question in the United States than there is in either of those two nations. Under these circumstances, it is not easy to see why England should single out our silver agitation. The truth is that the late alarm among British holders of our securities was caused less by the silver situation as such, than by the fact that the United States Treasury might become incapacitated for keeping its demand obligations,—greenbacks and Sherman notes, on a parity with gold. They were less concerned about the amount of our silver circulation than about the supply of gold available for keeping the legal tenders at par. They have the utmost confidence in other countries whoses tock of silver is proportionately quite equal to ours; and they would have had no distrust in our case had the Treasury been assured of a stock of gold which could not be exhausted by the holders of 500 millions of Government demand obligations. The United States Government had no such assurance, and consequently it was subject to a drain which might possibly involve inconceivable derangement to every form of investment, excepting possibly such as were payable in gold coin. That was our weak point, and it was the chief cause of the return upon us of the immense amount of foreign held obligations not payable specifically in gold. That danger has been remedied by the Loan Syndicate, which has not only replenished the reserve of the Treasury but also affords reasonable assurance that the Government will be protected against any such contingencies as have brought the Treasury so near to the suspension of gold payments. We risk little in saying that, for so long as the Government is shielded at this point, there will no effective reason why Europe should not maintain its former regard for American securities.

In general trade, the prospects remain encouraging. It is conceded in all markets that prices have touched bottom, and that lays a basis for buying which has not existed for the last two years. Manufacturers have pretty generally reached a stage at which they can afford to produce at the current scale of prices, though perhaps with strictly moderate profits; and the consequence is an increase of orders and preparations for a materially enlarged production. In all branches of the iron trade, excepting perhaps steel rails, there is a very distinct improvement in business which is the more gratifying because that industry is always accepted as the truest indication of the state of business at large. The cotton goods trade has entered on a healthier stage, and with the rise in raw cotton, fabrics are advancing in price. The woolen trade shows a better demand; but the manufacturers are held in some restraint by fears of the trades unions demanding an advance in wages. In articles of domestic consumption, such as groceries, etc., there is a steady improvement of demand; which show that the consumptive ability of the people is on an increase. In brief, the trade of the country generally affords evidence of a resumption of natural conditions, but on an exceptionally low scale of prices, which seems likely to prove more or less permanent.

HENRY CLEWS.

The Business Improvement.

Further solid improvement in trade is noted by the commercial agencies for the week just past, and the future is expected to show greater advances. Pittsburg is a leader in the returning prosperity. The columns of The Dispatch have reflected this condition during the spring, and the mammoth edition of thirty-two pages this morning is full of evidence of it.

Advertisers are quick to note improved conditions, and put their claims before a prosperous people. They unerringly select the best and most popular medium for that purpose, and The Dispatch thereby becomes a visible demonstration of the quickening of trade impulses. While the pressure of advertising on its columns is heavy, it rises to its position as the leading newspaper between New York and Chicago, and presents more and better material for the edification and delectation of its readers than ever. The Dispatch appreciates the position of Pittsburg in leading the way to good times, and as the representative journal of the city leads onward to improvement itself.

Forest Fire Losses.

The semi-annual season of forest fires is at hand, and during all this month numerous reports of destruction from that cause may be expected. The same thing will be repeated again next fall, when the foliage has fallen from the trees and become combustible. These fires have been prevalent every spring and autumn since the European pioneers first began driving the red aborigine toward the Pacific ocean. In fact there are evidences of the destruction of valuable timber in this country from the same cause prior to the time of Columbus.

It is impossible to compute the aggregate value of property destroyed every year by these forest fires. It is sufficient, however, to know it runs into millions of dollars, and frequently includes loss of life. These facts make the subject worthy of careful consideration and legislative action. Our forests are disappearing rapidly enough by their conversion to useful purposes. The waste by forest fires thus becomes serious. It may be impossible to prevent such fires altogether, but it is high time every possible preventive measure was taken and it is time some punishment was provided for willful neglect of possible precautions.

Awarded $6,000 Damages.

Pittsburg, April 2.—Mrs. Mary McHugh to-day received $6,000 damages from the proprietors of the Hotel Schlosser for the death of her husband. In December, 1891, A. B. McHugh was a guest at the Schlosser, and for some cause, alleged by the proprietors to be drunkenness, he was put out of the house. He fell in an alley near the hotel and for some time lay in the water and snow. While being taken to the hospital he died. His wife began a suit for $10,000 damages in 1892, and the case has just been settled.

A Memorial of the Representatives of the Yearly Meeting of Friends of Philadelphia and Parts Adjacent.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania.

Your memorialists respectfully represent that we have learned with sorrow and anxiety that a bill is now before the Legislature for the introduction of a Military Drill into the Public School System of Pennsylvania, and against this innovation we feel bound respectfully but earnestly to protest.

First.—Because we believe that all the advantages as regards physical development and habits of obedience claimed for such a training, may be attained by other and better methods.

Second.—Because the natural tendency of the proposed Drill will be to impress the minds of growing boys with an admiration for the profession of arms and martial display, which already needs no stimulus.

Third.—Because its introduction into educational institutions would foster the false view which regards the rendering of military service as the highest test of patriotism. Such a sentiment tends to undervalue the services of those in the peaceful walks of life, whose love for their Heavenly Father and their fellow men is continually proven by acts of self-sacrifice for the good of others, and devotion to the best interests of their Country.

Fourth.—We hold that the true policy of Republican institutions is eminently peaceful, and therefore adverse to warfare, or the preparation for it. The real strength of our Country consists, not in its readiness in meeting all possible contingencies by armed resistance; but in the intelligence, the virtue, the moral courage, and the God-fearing character of its people. It is by reason of the extent and completeness of the military systems of Europe that her peoples are to-day groaning under many and grevious burdens. We deem it therefore most unwise for our own favored nation, in a time of profound peace, to enter upon a course that must lead us in the same direction, and invite the very dangers which large armament and navies are supposed to guard against.

Fifth.—Upon the coming of our blessed Saviour, a new Dispensation to mankind was ushered in, with the angelic anthem, "Glory to God in the highest and on Earth peace, good will toward men;" and ages before, it had been foretold by a prophet of the Most High that there would come a time when "men shall learn war no more." This happy period will be hastened or retarded, by an acceptance or a rejection, by nations as well as by individuals, of the practical teachings of the Gospel. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was founded in the faith that a Christian Government can be administered on Christian principles; and it was successfully and safely carried on, without a military organization, or the resort to military force, for more than seventy years. If the peaceable spirit which then pervaded the community were once more to prevail, there would be but little disposition to favor such a measure as that now designed to be engrafted on the laws of the state.

Sixth.—We believe one inevitable result of the proposed instruction in military tactics, would be a connection more or less direct and permanent, between the War Department of the Government, and secular education as at present carried on by the State Schools. These in our judgment should be preserved entirely distinct.

Seventh.—The Public School System of Pennsylvania is an outgrowth of the long experience and careful consideration of some of our best educators, and many of them are unfavorable to the introduction of the Drill as seriously interfering with the present complete course of instruction. Again, the maintenance of the schools is dependent upon taxes paid by the people of the state, all of whom are equally entitled to the benefits arising from them. But many of these patrons could not, consistently with their religious convictions, send their children to schools where military training is part of the curriculum, nor could others, for a like reason, take positions as Directors or Teachers of the schools.

We therefore, can but regard the purposes of the Bill in question as inimical to the best interests of the State, unjust to a large number of worthy citizens, and an infringement of the rights of conscience, so dear to the people of this commonwealth. We trust that for these and other reasons, it may not receive the sanction of the Legislature.

By direction and on behalf of a meeting of the Representatives aforesaid, held in Philadelphia, Third Month 22, 1895.

JOSEPH WALTON, Clerk

If the election article submitted to the Utah Constitutional Convention is adopted in its present form men and women will be given the same civil and political rights and the right to vote will be restricted to those who are citizens of the United States and who are able to read the Constitution of the United States. The use of machines in voting is permitted and the Legislature will be required to pass strict registration laws and provide for non-partisan boards of election. Other requirements show that there is a disposition in the Utah convention to take advantage of the experience of the older States in securing honest elections. The provision permitting the use of machines in voting and the refusal to hold out a bait to immigrants to settle in Utah by giving them electoral privileges before they are citizens are especially noticeable. If the other provisions of the new Constitution are as well considered as these the State will begin its career with a fundamental law that many of its older sisters will envy.

An Overworked Doctrine.

The Monroe doctrine is widely cited and quoted by a large number of newspapers which appear to think it gives the United States a constant oversight and superintendence of the diplomatic relations of European countries and the smaller American Republics. The view often taken when any dispute arises between one of the lesser American countries and a great European power is that the Monroe doctrine makes the United States a benevolent protector of all American interests, a sort of permanent guardian pendente lite.

If this were true the United States would be in perpetual worry over troubles not its own and disputes whose origin and cause it does not conrol. The Monroe doctrine imposes no such burden. Its one object is to pledge the United States to see that no European power, directly or indirectly, occupies new territory on this hemisphere or impairs the independence of any American country. Unless a diplomatic dispute involves this it is none of our concern. If it does it is instantly our quarrel.

If Great Britain makes a demand on Nicaragua for indemnity this is a matter for the United States, unless the indemnity were so big as to mortgage Nicaragua for revenues and control the future policy of the little Republic. The boundary between Guiana and Venezuela is not our concern, unless Great Britain is moving it so as to occupy and for the first time Venezuelan territory. Then it becomes the duty of our government to protest.

Gradually and in time the United States may assume the position of continental arbiter in these matters. In the end we trust it may but this will be a new doctrine, not the Monroe doctrine. The United States ought in due time to take the position that no fighting or no threats of war are allowed on this hemisphere and that here all international disputes must be settled by arbitration or this country will know why; but this is not yet our position, although Republican foreign policy looks that way and Secretary Blaine's American diplomacy was all directed to this end.

No Third Term for Cleveland.

A number of contemporaries have begun agitating the possibility of a third term for President Cleveland. Some Washington correspondents have gone so far as to declare the President desires a third term, and is working to get it. This would be sensational news if true, but there is good reason to believe it is not true.

There is no probability that President Cleveland could be elected President for a third term if he wanted to be. There is no more reason for believing he wants to be. Mr. Cleveland may not be the ablest President the country has had, but he has the good common sense to know the people of the United States do not approve the third term principle, even though he may not have learned that he is not the most popular idol of his own party. He certainly knows a third term would be repugnant to the principles of his party, enunciated many times in the past. He can easily forsee the probability of the defeat of the Democratic candidate, whoever he may be, next year. He would be blind, indeed, if he could not see farther to the certainty of defeat with the handicap of a candidacy for a third term, and Mr. Cleveland is surely not pining for the empty honor of a defeated candidacy. He had that experience once.

Frow, chief marshal, participated in by civil societies, company of Fifth regiment, fire companies, burgess and borough officers. Address of welcome, Hon. W. H. Parcels; response, George G. Boyer. Business meeting at 7 p. m., campfire following.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, April, 1 1895.

From Our Regular Correspondent.)

That Mr. Cleveland is a candidate for renomination is now acknowledged by the shrewdest men in his own party. Senator Gorman, who may be said to be at the head of that class, told a gentleman that Mr. Cleveland's egotism was just as great as ever, notwithstanding the disastrous experience of the last two years, and that he actually believed he could again be elected if nominated on a platform of his own making, so far as it relates to tariff and finance. It is needless to say to the intelligent reader that Senator Gorman does not believe Mr. Cleveland could again be elected upon any platform; nor that he is doing everything he can, and he can do a great deal in the democratic party, to block the game Mr. Cleveland is playing for a renomination. The latest scheme to boom Mr. Cleveland is to have him make a speech at Chicago in the near future; it has not been fully developed yet.

Much uneasiness has been caused in official circles by a report that the Supreme Court will by a vote of 5 to 3 decide the income tax to be unconstitutional. More than the usual attention is given this report because of the recent advance leakings of important decisions of the Court.

In view of the probability that the Finance committee of the Senate may play a very important part in the Fifty-fourth Congress, there is considerable speculation as to who will be its chairman. Under the existing organization Senator Voorhees is chairman of that committee, but, although no one knows, it is generally expected that the Senate will be reorganized as soon as it meets. So general is this expectation that the republicans have been discussing the make-up of this committee, and have, informally, of course, arrived at some conclusions. Senator Morrill, of Vt., "the father" of the Senate, would be under the usual rule the next chairman of the Finance committee, but, owing to his age and the hard work which is likely to fall to the lot of the head of that committee, he has indicated his desire to wave his rights in favor of Senator Sherman, who was chairman of the committee when he retired from the Senate to become Secretary of the Treasury under President Hayes, and it may be considered as settled that Mr. Sherman will be chairman, if any change is made. It is probable that the membership of the committee will be increased from eleven to thirteen, and that Senators Cameron, of Pa., and Platt, of Com., will be members, the former being the choice of the silver men for the place left vacant by the retirement of McPherson, of New Jersey.

Verily, times have changed. Up to the Cleveland regime it was the habit of nearly every President to walk about the streets of Washington, just as any other citizen in search of a little healthful exercise would do, but the memory of the public is short and the other day when Mr. Cleveland actually walked from the White House to the residence of Secretary Herbert, about four squares away, the local papers made a sensation out of it; which shows the deteriorating effect of having a President who shuts himself up, surrounded by sentry boxes and detectives and is afraid to venture out among the people.

Speaking of changes, one that was very amusing was brought to the attention of the public by an overtruthful speaker at one of the sessions of the Southern Methodist Conference for the Baltimore district, now sitting in Washington. Mr. Cleveland sent an invitation to the members of the conference and their families to attend a special reception at the White House, and when it was laid before the conference, one of its members—Rev. J. S. Tongue, of Charlestown, W. Va., came near to exciting a riot by opposing the acceptance of the invitation and calling attention to the fact that the last time this conference met in Washington—in 1875—it had refused a similar invitation from President Grant, on the ground that the conference wished to keep as free as possible from politics. Notwithstanding Mr. Tongue's remarks about the inconsistency of such action he was promptly hooted down and Mr. Cleveland's invitation accepted. Sensible people, regardless of their politics or their religion, can only laugh at such silly doings on the part of those who assume to be leaders and teachers of their respective congregations.

It seems a little queer that the administration should actually be apologizing for the presence of Admiral Mead's fleet in Central American waters at this time. It may be true that the presence of the ships is accidental—that is probably the only way this administration can do the right thing—but it is timely, in view of the bull-dozing attitude of England towards Nicaragua; and instead of feeling disposed to explain or apologize therefor, it might have been supposed that the administration would have been only too glad to have claimed credit for having them there. But nobody can tell what this administration will do about anything.

Income Tax Returns.

Deputy Revenue Commissioner Brosius has received the following instructions relative to income tax returns from the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, Washington, D. C.

Only debts which were contracted during the year 1894, and found in said year to be worthless, and losses from the sale of bonds, notes and other personal property purchased in said year, can be deducted from income as "worthless debts" or "losses actually sustained" in computing income for that year.

Collectors should require both persons and corporations in making return to state specifically in answering questions on page three of returns when debts reported as worthless were contracted, and when property, from the sale of which losses are claimed, was purchased.

Attention is particularly directed to the fact that all returns should be made full and complete, as designated on forms 365 and 366, and no income return should be received unless it clearly appears from the statements in such returns that all deductions therein are allowable by law and conform to the rule above stated. All returns should be carefully examined and corrected before the same are forwarded to this office.

THE reported case of a Chattanooga man who was cured of hydrophobia by hypnotism may lead the hasty to overestimate the value of suggestion in the cure of diseases. From what appear to be the facts in the case it is very evident the patient, although in a state of collapse from terror, was not suffering from any specific organic disease, but merely from the "fear of the disease itself." His affliction being wholly of the imagination it was of course amenable to the soothing effects of hypnosis, and hence the man was cured, or, more strictly speaking, returned to a sound state of mind. Had there been an actual organic affection hypnotism would have failed, as the effect of the mind on the body, although a well recognized factor in the scientific medicine of to-day, is not so profound as the charlatans would have their dupes believe. The refusal to see the limitations of mind on body is responsible for the delusions of christian science and faith cure, the latett victim of the latter craze being a California woman who died of puerperal fever, no treatment save praying being shown the unfortunate woman, although her condition being otherwise normal recovery under the ordinary treatment would have been a matter of course.

IT is beginning to be understood that there is little hope of the Legislature adjourning finally before the middle of June. This will be rather inglorious outcome of all the early talk of a short session. Should it last until the middle of June it will break the record under the present Constitution, the longest session heretofore, that of 1893, having ended on June 12, and the shortest since the change to biennial meetings, that of 1889, ending ending on May 9. There is no good reason why the present session should be unnaturally prolonged, but the calendars have become so encumbered with bills of all kinds, and many of them totally useless that it will take a long time in the regular order to reach bills of an absolutely essential character. The prospect of ten weeks more of the Legislature is very far from a pleasant one.

THE looting of the Whisky Trust is something refreshing as an example of what syndicates within syndicates can do when they try. There is a swindle conducted by the officers and directors of the trust. They sold 35,500 shares to themselves, at forty-five cents on the dollar, the operation scooping in exactly the dividend, which amounted to $1,024,120. They refused publication of their enterprise until the experts on the books gave out the facts. Of course, the shareholders who didn't share in the thing have no redress. The looters watered the stock as well as their whisky.

Despatches from various parts of the West show that the forest fires are breaking out, as is invariably the case in the Spring time, and are likely to cause a great deal of damage. As soon as the melting of the snow exposes the dry leaves and a period of fair weather sets in we have these fires, and will continue to until every State passes strict forestry laws and a general concern for the perservation of our forests is developed among the people. The money losses through forest fires every year would pay for the establishment of forestry bureaus, and yet no work has a harder conflict than the education of the people in this particular.

New Jersey in the Lead.

The first annual report of Edward Burroughs, State Commissioner of Public Roads for New Jersey, is a notable publication and ought to arrest general attention. It is evidence that the gospel of good roads has been practiced with efficacy and success in New Jersey and that its faith in it has been kept alive and strengthened by good works. While other States, including Pennsylvania, are still talking of goods roads, afraid to take the necessary steps to secure them lest it may cost some money. New Jersey is already in the enjoyment of them, and every succeeding Legislature seeks to strengthen, enlarge and improve the original law which opened up an era of good roads in New Jersey.

The Good Roads Association should publish the road laws of New Jersey and Commissioner Burroughs' report on their successful operation and circulate it broadcast over the Union. The letter from farmers testifying to the benefits which they receive from good roads ought to be read at grange meetings everywhere. In eleven of the twenty-one counties of New Jersey macadam and telford roads have been substituted for the old mud and dust strips that served as highways, and the change gives infinite satisfaction to the people. The cost is not excessive and is money well spent. Says Commissioner Burroughs: "The money expended on our public roads by the State brings the best return to the people direct of any money appropriated from the State Treasury, and the enjoyments and benefits arising therefrom are accessible to all citizens. We are buying the greatest amount of comfort and permanent good with the money thus expended."

The doctrine of good roads means free roads. Toll roads and toll bridges are a relic and survival of a lower stage of civilization. They should not be tolerated in the country any more than in the city. Commissioner Burroughs recalls the fact that toll bridges became free bridges in New Jersey because of the popular opposition to them, and for the same reason he urges that the counties buy up the toll roads and make them free to all. New Jersey will doubtless effect this reform, for her eyes are opened to the value of highways unobstructed by mud or toll gate. Eventually Pennsylvania will reach the same stage of development, but the dawning of that morning does not appear to be close at hand.

WHILE the Governor may feel obliged to sign the bill creating a separate Orphans' Court in Schuylkill County on the ground that the Constitution directs the establishment of such court, it is nevertheless perfectly well known that there is not the least need of such court in that county. This is confessed by those in the county itself who understand the facts. The Pottsville "Miners' Journal," the leading paper of the county, declares the uselessness of such a court, and says that the new judge will have a sinecure. If the money to pay the salary of this new judge had to come out of the treasury of the county instead of that of the State it may be taken for granted that every one of the Schuylkill representatives would have been opposed to creating a new court. This is one of the cases altered by circumstances. It is an unwise provision of the Constitution which directs that a separate Orphans' Court shall be established in every county having 150,000 population, and may be established in others.

The controversy in progress between the Hon. James Kerr and National Chairman Harrity for the organization of the Democratic State Committee is one which in some games would go by the name of bluff. These two Democratic leaders are not merely making faces at each other, but they are both claiming everything, so that if one of them is not greatly mistaken both are going to control the organization of the party committee for the coming year. As a matter of fairness we are bound to say that Mr. Kerr is about as competent as Mr. Harrity when it comes to making claims, but it can hardly be disputed that Mr. Harrity gets his claims before the people much more frequently and with rather more vehemence. Mr. Kerr may be too busy to prepare typewritten interviews with himself every day or two, but if he expects to have any standing at the coming meeting of the State Committee he will need to make noise than he has made so far. If claims are to win of course the more boisterous they are the better. What there is left of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania would not object to a little brag.

President Cleveland will make a serious error if he fails to select representatives to the coming International Silver Conference, and an error equally serious if he does not make it clearly understood that this country proposes to wait until other nations are ready to share the work of rehabilitating silver. No nation alone can restore silver, and no other nation will aid in the restoration if it is thought the United States is ready to act and carry the burden alone. A year and a half in which the United States has let England and the rest of the world find out what it really means to demonetize silver has done more for silver than fifteen years in which the United States spent over $500,000,000 in supporting silver.

—And now we soon may expect nice weather.

ANNA D[illegible]

Evidence That She Was Insane—Miss Anna [illegible] Speak in Her Own Behalf.

Scranton, Pa., March 28.—Testimony accumulated against Miss Anna Dickinson to-day in her suit in the United States circuit court. Somewhat of a stir has been created by the report that when the case goes to the jury, which will probably be on Saturday, Anna will make a speech in her own behalf. Miss Susan Dickinson was recalled for cross-examination this morning, and among other things denied that she wrote to George W. Childs in the hope of having a fund of $20,000 raised for herself and Anna so that they could go to Europe.

The most sensational testimony of the day was by Mrs. Stanton, a dressmaker of Pittston, who said Anna first began to appear strange in August of 1890. Later she came there and looked very strange. She told Mrs. Stanton that she had a severe pain and asked to have remedies applied, and had the witness pull her fingers and toes. "In a short time she threw herself on the floor on her stomach and kicked hard and furious. She laid there over an hour."

Frequently she came to the witnes house, and acted very curious. "She would sometimes come to my house and if the dresses did not suit her she would rip off the trimmings and say 'D—— the thing.' She came to my house again and loosened some of clothing and showed witness a scar on her right thigh, saying 'The d—— doctors cut me up.'"

Witness got very excited and indignant under Mr. McLean's cross examination, and insisted that her story was not fixed up for the occasion. "Didn't she ask you to get a woolen cloth and put on her when she was on floor in such pain?" "No, she didn't," exclaimed the witness, "and she knows it if she knows anything." Witness' bible opinion was that she was crazy drunk.

This witness was corroborated by her daughter, Mrs. Iva Marcy, and Miss Nellie Ellsworth. Allen Egglestein, who later helped Miss Dickinson from the room in which she locked herself, said she was either insane or had a "jag on." Conductor Baldwin, of the train that took Miss Anna to Danville, said she wanted him to telegraph for her to Jay Gould for $1,000,000 and to Robert E. Pattison, telling him that we must have universal suffrage.

Mrs. Mary J. Marsh, now of Tioga Co., formerly supervisor of the female department at Danville asylum, described Anna's peculiar conduct and said that she had no doubt that Anna was insane. She said that Anna selected as her one intimate friend in the institution an old woman whose mind was completely gone and who was as silly as a 3-year-old child. For this infirm old creature Anna manifested a great affection and would walk up and down the corridors with her arms about the old woman's neck. Evidence for the defense will close by to-morrow evening.

All Wind Records Were Broken.

New York, March 28.—All wind records were broken to-day by the howling gale which swooped down upon the city early this morning. Shortly before one o'clock the wind had worked itself up to seventy-five miles an hour—just three miles beyond the previous record of March, 1876, which had stood untouched for nineteen years. At sunrise the trouble began. Every hour witnessed a jump of 10 miles, and at 10 o'clock 65 miles an hour was the score.

Shipping down the bay was paralyzed and much damage was done to property. Not a single vessel ventured outside of Sandy Hook. At noon the wind got worse. Finally at 12.55 o'clock it took the biggest jump of all, and registered 75 miles an hour. This rate was kept up for just two minutes.

Later in the day the wind velocity began to fall. At 4.30 o'clock it was blowing at the rate of 62 miles an hour.

There was trouble all day in the harbor. Small crafts dragged their anchors and were saved by tugs by going ashore.

The United States training ship Alliance was in collision with the receiving ship Vermont at the Brooklyn navy yard and carried away her jibboom. The Alliance had just arrived from Norfolk.

Pedestrians were blown over in Exchange Place between New street and Broadway and several men were considerably bruised by being thrown to the pavement. One woman was picked up unconscious. She was taken into an office nearby and revived. The high wind caused trouble on unfinished buildings and many trifling accidents occurred in different parts of the city.

PAINT cracks.—It often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead

forms a permanent base for repainting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure of getting strictly pure white lead, purchase any of the following brands:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, a one-pound can to a 25-pound keg of Lead and mix your own paints. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best paint that it is possible to put on wood.

Is a Menace to France.

London, March 28.—In the House of Commons this evening Sir Edward Grey, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, in replying to an interrogation in regard to the reported invasion of the Nile Valley by the French, said that the foreign office had no reason to suppose that any French expedition either had been instructed to enter the Nile Valley or had the intention to do so. He could not believe it possible in the face of the fact that the British Government's views were fully known to France. The advance of a French expedition under secret orders from the west side of Africa into territory subject to British claims whose rightfulness has been so long known, would be not only an inconsistent and unexpected act, but also an unfriendly one, and would be regarded as such by the government.

Henry Labouchere, the radical leader, pronounced Sir Edward Grey's speech a menace to France. He said certain members seemed to imagine the Nile to be as much British property as the Thames. He for one, could not feel surprised that, in view of such statements, France was not friendly.

Sir Edward Grey denied that his statement had implied in any way a menace to France ("here," "here,"). The question of a general settlement of their respective interests in Africa was under discussion between the two countries.

NEW DISCOVERY.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Crown Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Terry's Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons.

Will be Able to Collect.

Washington, March 28.—Treasury officials express no concern whatever about their ability to collect the income tax, should the Supreme Court declare the law constitutional.

Assessments of the tax by the Commissioner empowers Collectors of Internal Revenue to distrain property, sell the same under such distraint for taxes due, penalties, interest and costs attached. The assessment is equivalent to an execution issued on a judgment in court. "Should there be," said an official who is entirely familiar with the law, "any general movement not to pay the income tax, the result would be to swell the receipts from this source $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, on account of penalties attached, for the reason that the tax can be collected as easily as the whisky tax. Men who are subject to the income tax, as a rule, have property in sight which can be distrained upon."

Memorial Day.

Rockford, Ill., March 26.—Commander-in-Chief Lawler, of the Grand Army of the Republic, to-day issued a general order urging the proper observance of Memorial Day by veterans, school children and citizens generally. The restoration of 50,000 suspended members is also urged.

TWO DEAD ROBBERS.

An Unsuccessful Attempt to Hold Up a Passenger Train.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 27.—Two robbers dead and a third mortally wounded are the results of an attempt to hold up the south-bound passenger train on the Cincinnati Southern railroad at 2.30 this morning. The train had just emerged from tunnel No. 9, two miles north of Greenwood, Ky., when a white lantern, swinging in the middle of the track just ahead, brought it to a dead stop.

A tall, lank, bearded countryman, perhaps 45 years old, mounted the steps of the engine, and thrusting the barrel of a pistol into the face of Engineer Tom Springfield, ordered him to stand still, which he did, while Fireman Rankin, who was next to the outlaw, observed a discreet silence. Three other men climbed into the baggage car, which they evidently mistook for the express car.

Three road detectives, Thomas Griffin, Will Eddy and Will Altgood, were in the smoking car when the train stopped. Altgood stepped up to see what was going on and as he stepped down he was ordered to throw up his hands by a man who had a revolver, but instead he pulled his own revolver and began firing. The other two robbers took fright at the shooting and jumping from the baggage car, began a fusilade of shots.

Eddy and Griffin appeared on the scene and it is believed they brought down two robbers, one of whom died instantly, while the other lived till 4 o'clock. A third man was wounded in the breast, perhaps fatally. He climbed upon the tender and refused to budge till Cumberland Falls was reached. There he was given in charge of the operator. Two of the attacking party escaped.

Officials of the road have had knowledge for some time of a plot to rob the train, and the officers were in readiness. The wounded man claims to be a tramp from Pennsylvania. None of the men were identified, but are mountaineers disguised by the clothes they wore.

Blind-Folded Justice Limps Along.

New York, March 27.—On November 17, 1893, Barney Reick, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., was waylaid and murdered by five men. The motive for the crime was said to be robbery, as Reick was supposed to be wealthy. One of the supposed murderers, James Hendricks, was arrested, but the others succeeded in making their escape. Private detectives were set to work upon the case and finally John J. Robinson, one of the escaped men, was discovered to be plying his old vocation as brakeman.

Chief of Police Briggs, of Wilkesbarre, communicated with Inspector McLaughlin, of this city, and Detective Sergeants Robinson and Sullivan were detailed on the case. They arrested Robinson on Monday night in Mulberry street and he promptly admitted that he was the man they were looking for, though he did not confess his participation in the crime. In the Essex Market police court to-day Justice Grady committed Robinson to the tombs to await requisition papers from Pennsylvania.

A Cincinnati Bank Assigns.

Cincinnati, O., March 27.—The Commercial bank assigned this afternoon to W. H. Campbell, its cashier. The decision to go out of business was reached but a half hour before the assignment was made. The bank was compelled to make good $50,000 worth of bad paper yesterday.

President Foote says that the bank will be able to pay dollar for dollar. The bank is the oldest in the city. It was organized in 1831. Charles B. Foote is president. The bank has a paid up capital stock of $328,000 and a surplus of $40,000. Its average deposits were $400,000. When the first rush was made to the bank it was closed and the iron doors were locked tight. The rumor soon gained circulation and a crowd of anxious depositors congregated in front of the door.

A Plague Is Raging.

London, March 27.—A dispatch to the Star, says that cholera has broken out among the Japanese troops at Port Arthur. Thirty-eight cases were reported in one day.

Dispatches from Shanghai and Hong Kong to the Central News state that many mysterious deaths are occurring at Kowoton, where the plague is reported to be raging. The colonial government, however do not ascribe the deaths to the plague.

The Japanese forces succeeded in taking the Pescadore Island on March 24. The troops were landed and attacked the forts and carried them by assault.

Miners' Delegates Meet.

DuBois, Pa., March 27.—Delegates representing the miners of district No. 2, of the United Mine Workers' association met in convention here to-day. A total of from 15,000 to 20,000 miners were represented from parts of Clearfield, Jefferson, Elk and Cambria counties. President Bradley presided. All newspaper men were excluded from the meeting, but a press committee was appointed by the delegates to give out such information as the convention did not object to have made public. It is understood the demands to be made will be for an advance of ten cents per ton, and up, according to the height of coal in the various mines. The scale of prices will be based upon the scale demanded in the Pittsburg region, and it is intimated that there will be a general strike if the demands of the men are not conceded. It is understood that unless the employers and the men arrive at a satisfactory understanding soon a strike will be ordered on May 1.

Grains of Gold.

Self-love is idolatry.

A self-made man likes to brag on his job.

Golden opportunities do not fly in circles.

Make life a ministry of love, and it will always be worth living.

We always find wit and merit in those who look at us with admiration.

No matter who has the floor; self conceit will always find a way to speak.

A great many people are in such a hurry that they have no time to live.

The money that brings us most good is the money with which we do good.

All truth is nonsense to the who has let a lie make its home in his heart.

Love has to be seen with the eyes of the heart before its name can be known.

Look into the drunkard's home, if you would see tracks that have been made by the cloven hoof.

That which seemeth most casual and subject to fortune, is yet disposed by the ordinance of Heaven.

There are people who seem to think that God only expects them to keep the Ten Commandments on Sunday.

It is bad reasoning which builds up a theory of life on the narrow ledge of a passing human mood, and fails to take in the whole round of life.

Curley Cannot Be Removed.

Harrisburg, March 27.—Attorney General McCormick has given Governor Hastings an opinion as to the tenure of Recorder Curley in Philadelphia. The opinon is a long one and concludes as follows: "I reach the conclusion that the executive has no power to remove John J. Curley, recorde of deeds, for the city of Philadelphia because it is an elective office and because of the opinion that that clause of the constitution giving the power to the governor to remove 'appointed officers' means officers holding offices that are appointive in character and not elective." He is of the opinion that Mr. Curley cannot be disturbed in his office until the first Monday of next January.

Death of Five Persons.

Minot, N.D., March 27.—A most appalling accident, resulting in death to five persons, occurred during last night. A fire caught from a kitchen stove pipe in a house of Christian Christianson and the whole house was in flames in three minutes. Eleven persons, the father, mother and nine children, were asleep in the house. Christianson, his wife and four children, who slept on the first floor, escaped with difficulty. All the children upstairs, the oldest of whom was 15, were suffocated by smoke and then burned to a crisp.

Made an Assignment.

Collegeville, Pa., March 27.—Professor J. Warrenne Sunderland, of this place, made an assignment to E. S. Moser, editor of the Providence Independent. Professor Sunderland is one of the best known citizens of this county, and was for many years president and principal of Pennsylvania Female college, a once flourishing institution at Collegeville. He was a man of considerable wealth, but a few years ago engaged in private banking and met with serious losses.

Gen. Greenland's Funeral.

Clarion, March 27.—The funeral services over the remains of ex-Adjutant General Greenland took place to-day at 10:30 a.m., in the Methodist Episcopal church. The Governor's party consisted of Governor Hastings and staff, ex-Governor Pattison and members of the cabinet. The pall bearers were J. W. Reed, H. D. Campbell, A. W. Corbett, W. F. Colner, W. F. Boyce, G. C. Kribbs and W. L. Sansom.

Used the Mails to Defraud.

Philadelphia, March 27.—L. Lum Smith, proprietor of the Agent's Herald, was given a further hearing to-day by United States Commissioner Bell on the charge of carrying on a scheme to defraud by use of the mails. Several witnesses testified to having mailed money to Smith for goods and of the failure of the defendant to either forward merchandise or answer their letters. The accused was held in $1,500 bail for court.

NEW YORK'S MYSTERY.

The Victim of the Recent Tragedy Came From Virginia.

New York, April 1.—The father of Pearl Ivory went to the morgue this afternoon and examined the body of the murdered colored woman. He declared it was not his daughter. The first really substantial clew was furnished by a woman employed in the waiting room of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, at Hoboken. The woman arrived at the station house about 3 o'clock this afternoon and was ushered into Captain Delaney's room. She talked with the police for half an hour, telling them what she knew about the supposed woman and then she was taken to the morgue.

She was led into the room where the corpse was lying and immediately said: "That's she." Afterwards she was taken into a side room where she made a lengthy statement. Detective Nugent afterwards informed the excluded reporters that the woman was Madora Robinson, a ladies' maid in the depot at Hoboken, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. Madora is a colored woman.

She said that last Tuesday the dead woman came into the depot on the 10.17 a. m. train from Newark. She got into a conversation with her and learned that the dead woman had come from Heathsville, Va., near Fredericksburg. She had gone into service as a cook in some small town not far from Hoboken, but not liking the work came to New York to seek employment. The dead woman told Madora that she was going to visit acquaintances on Thompson street, this city. The number Madora could not remember.

This is the first real information leading to fixing the locality of the crime. A careful search of Thompson street is now in progress.

Madora said she could not tell the dead woman's name, but that could be easily learned by telegraphing to Heathsville.

The Anna Dickinson Case.

Scranton, Pa., April 1.—When the United States circuit court resumed its sitting this morning in the Anna Dickinson conspiracy case, the plaintiff was recalled to the stand. She testified relative to a bundle of letters which she had written while in the Danville asylum, and especially regarding one addressed to her brother, Rev. John Dickinson, at Los Angeles, Cal. She then gave another dramatic recital of her incarceration in the asylum, during which she wept several times.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Juror John J. Green received a telegram which Judge Acheson opened and read. It was to the effect that the juror's wife was dying at her home in Gray's Run, Forest county, and neither side being willing to continue the case with eleven juroas, the trial was adjourned until Monday next.

Warwick Inducted Into Office.

Philadelphia, April 1.—Charles F. Warwick, who was selected mayor in February last, was inducted into office at noon to-day, the oaths being administered by Judge Bregy, of the comman pleas court. In his inaugural address the new mayor dwelt upon the city's needs and advocated varjous improvements, among the latter being the adoption by street railways of some device which will lessen trolley car accidents. Mayor Warwick this afternoon transmitted his initial message to select council. It announced the appointments of Thomas M. Thompson to be director of public works; Abram M. Beitler to be director of public safety, and John K McCarthy as the mayor's private secretary. The appointments were confirmed. Mr. Beitler was reappointed to the office.

Use it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucous, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the ackowledged cure for these troubles.

WEAK NERVES EPIDEMIC.

WEAK NERVES WILL SURELY BREAK YOU DOWN.

NERVES ARE THE VERY FOUNDATION OF STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE.

If Your Nerves Are Weak, Lose no Time in Getting Them Strong.

You are growing older every day, and if you do not wish the unpitying years as they roll on their relentless way, to rob you of your hopes and joys, your pleasures, your ambitions, your very strength and energies, keep your nerves strong and vigorous.

It is the nerves which soonest wear out. You thoughtlessly use them up in work, pleasure or dissipation, and suddenly wake to find yourself broken-down—that only your body remains, bereft of strength energy and power, a mere wreck of what you were and with only dreariness, pain, weakness, and discontent your future portion. Then you realize the immeasurable depth and bitterness in Longfellow's lines:

"Oh, sudden thrills of fire and frost!
The world is bright while ye remain,
And dark anddead when ve are lost."

Health, hope, happiness—everything is dependent upon strong and vigorous nerves. It is weak nerves which give to the young, fits, convulsions, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance, and the myriad nervous affections of youth. It is weak nerves which make women constantly tired, irritable, nervous, dispirited, dragged-out and miserable. It is weak nerves which conquer men in their struggle for mastery in the world, which render them nerveless, strengthless, powerless, with dull-feeling head, shaking, shattered and unsteady nerves, without appetite or good digestion enfeebled from sleepless nights and wretched and discouraged from trying days. It is weak nerves which make age a curse instead of a blessing—a body, a casket from which every power and energy has fled, leaving only weakness, despair and utter weariness.

If there is any advice, which above another, should sink into the heart, it is the admonition to keep your nerves strong. Hence, the words of Mrs. Eliza E. Clements, of 126 Bright street, Indianapolis, Ind., should have weight with everyone.

"I was afflicted for six years with nervous debility. I could not sleep nights, and I was in a terrible condition. I had heart trouble, and it beat so hard I thought I should die. I was in constant misery and could do no work.

"I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine.

MRS. ELIZA E. CLEMENTS.

"It has made me sound and well. I can work all day and not get tired. My heart disease is entirely cured, and my nerves are strong and under perfect control.

"I feel it my duty to tell suffering humanity what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and what it will surely do for them. I am thankful that Dr. Greene has given such a valuable medicine to a suffering world."

If you would be well and strong, with vigorous nerves full of the vim and energy of youth, use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. At this season of the year you should take it, by all means, as it is the best spring tonic and invigorator you can possibly use.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Elections in Ohio.

Youngstown, O., April 1.—At to-day's election the vote polled was considerably below the registration. The women's vote was much less than the registration. Republicans were elected for all the offices voted for except one.

Columbus, O., April 1.—The democrats won a decided victory in Columbus carrying the city for the first time in two years, electing their mayor by a plurality of 1,879. Women participated in the elections for the first time, voting for members of the school board. Only about 1,200 women had registered and it is estimated that less than 1,000 actually voted.

A Remarkable Capture.

On a recent Sunday afternoon while Messrs. David Koegh and Andrew Yeckley, of Gallitzin, were crossing Lake mountain, near Lloydsville, they were attacked by a huge female bear. The two men, although taken by surprise, made a brave fight, well knowing their lives were at stake, and finally succeeded in gaining the mastery. It was a desperate struggle as the torn clothes and lacerated flesh well testified. The bear was of extraordinary size, and, upon examination, it was found that the ears of the bear were marked in a peculiar manner, the right one being branded with a V and the left having three holes punctured in it. They paid no particular attention to this, and after binding up each other's wounds as well as they could were about to resume their interrupted journey, when they heard a muffled growling issuing from a neighboring thicket. They at once determined to investigate and proceeded with extreme caution toward the spot from which the subdued sounds emanated. A few steps more and lying on the ground all huddled together, they saw four little cubs. They were as playful as kittens, and at the risk of securing a few slight scratches were picked up and taken home.

Saturday a telegram came from Geneva, Ohio, from a representative of Walter L. Main's show. He had heard of the capture and the marks found on the ears of the mother bear were identical with those of the huge grizzly that escaped from the wreck at Vail, near Tyrone, in May, 1893. It will be remembered that at the time of this wreck among the animals that escaped was this large bear.—Ebensburg Herald.

The Hon. James Kerr, who is now contending with National Chairman Harrity for the control of the Democratic State Committee, has been in New York reporting that there is a crisis in this State. This must have been suspected for some time by those who have kept with the the daily bulletins and interviews issued by Mr. Kerr on one side and Mr. Harrity on the other, but Mr. Kerr's announcement gives the crisis an official stamp which it could not before boast. We presume Mr. Harrity likewise regards it as a crisis, although he has never made any authoritative statement on the subject. The people of Pennsylvania have always tried to avoid these peace-disturbing and dangerous conditions, but when a couple of Democrats get into a row as to which boss the various fag ends of the party still able to be around everything else has to give way. The consoling thing about Mr. Kerr's crisis is it can't last long.

THERE MAY BE TROUBLE.

Lace Weavers Who Are Alleged to Have Been Imported.

New York, April 2.—The arrival in Wilkesbarre, Pa., last December of four expert lace weavers from Saxony aroused the ire and animosity of the members of all the labor unions in the western district of Pennsylvania against the strangers who had invaded their special field of labor. The newcomers easy found employment in the factories of the Wilkesbarre Lace Manufacturing company, but the jealousy and ill-feeling was not abated until after the new arrivals had been driven out of work, out of the city and finally out of the state and back to Ellis island, where they last week besought the authorities to send them back to Saxony.

The names of the men are Franz Ludere, Fradz Emil Sporn, F. Amy Bossler and William Richard Kochler. They first arrived at Ellis Island in December last on board the Hamburg line steamer Normannia, and having satisfactorily passed all examinations, were allowed to land. When they arrived back last week and asked to be returned to Saxony, Dr. Senner, immigration commissioner, took their positions and some additional light was thrown on the stories which had been communicated to the federal authorities in Pennsylvania by the labor unions to the effect that the four men had been imported by the Wilkesbarre Lace Manufacturing company in violation of the contract labor law.

The facts in the case were forwarded to Washington by Dr. Senner, and the secretary of the treasury ordered an action in assumpsit to be begun against the Wilkesbarre Lace Manufacturing company by the federal authorities in Pennsylvania to recover $1,000 for each of the men said to have been illegally imported.

William H. Cochran, of the law firm of Ullo, Ruebsamen & Cochran has been appointed to take testimony in the case in this city in behalf of the government. The Wilkesbarre Lace Manufacturing company will be represented by Oliver M. Benedict. The taking of testimony will begin on Friday next.

LIKE A MIRACLE.

Salt Rheum, Impure Blood and a Hacking Cough That Baffled Physicians, Finally Cured.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

In the town of Amherst, Mass., Mr. Geo. B. Pierce and his mother are the proprietors of the Amherst Creamery Association. Mrs. Pierce has suffered for a long time with Salt Rheum and a cough that foreboded consumption, but they have given way to health and vigor. Hearing of this a reporter called on Mrs. Pierce, and the following experience was related:

"For a long time I suffered from Salt Rheum" said Mrs. Pierce, "but about two years ago I slipped and hurt my knee, which made it worse. I can't begin to tell the agony I was in, my limbs became a mass of raw flesh covered with running sores. My friends would say I could not live long, and I thought so too. Well, I heard of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and Dr. David Kennedy's Salt Rheum Cream; I commenced using them, and in three weeks I walked out of doors. Last night I walked a mile, and I am sixty-three years of age, It shows that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and Salt Rheum Cream can do more than the physicians, for they made me well after the doctors told me I was incurable. I must also tell you of an other preparation Dr. Kennedy advised me to use, which did as much for me. It was Dr. Kennedy's Cherry Balsam. I have had a wretched cough for the past fifteen years the best doctors in the state united in saying that it was incurable, and that it was only a matter of time before my lungs would give out—my sleep was restless, I would lie awake for hours. I well recollect the first time I used Dr. Kennedy's Cherry Balsam. It relieved my throat at once, and I slept all through that night, the first full night's rest I had in several years. It seemed like a miracle. I took but two bottles and was cured.

Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balsam cures asthma, bronchitis, coughs, colds, incipient consumption, whooping cough or croup. Taken with Favorite Remedy it never fails. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Dr. David Kennedy's Salt Rheum Cream is sold at 50c a package. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy costs $1 a bottle or six bottles for $5.

Favorite Remedy ranks with the medical profession as the most perfect of all blood and nerve medicines. It restores the liver to a healthy condition, and cures constipation. It is a certain cure for all diseases peculiar to women, and affords protection from attacks that originate at change of life. It cures scrofula, salt rheum tumors, rheumatism, dyspepsia, all kidney, bladder and urinary diseases; gravel, diabetes and Bright's disease. In this last disease it has cured where all else has failed.

Two Railroaders Killed.

Uniontown, Pa., April 1.—Conductor Barger and Brakeman John Shipley, of this place, were instantly killed on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Lemont last night. A peculiar coincidence is that both were killed in exactly the same manner and within an hour of each other. Shipley was the first victim. While he was stepping from one car to another the train broke and he fell between the cars and was ground to pieces. The crew picked the body up and started to town. They had gone but a short distance when Conductor Barger met death in a similar manner. Barger leaves a wife and one child. Shipley was single.

How to Save Money and Health.

Most people have some trouble with their health which they would like cured if it could be done easily and cheaply. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, makes the following offer: He gives you the privilege of consulting him, free of charge, through his great system of letter correspondence. Write him just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer your letter, explaining your case thoroughly, telling just what ails you and how to get strong and well. He gives the most careful attention to every letter, and makes his explanations so clear that you understand exactly what your complaint is. And for all this you pay nothing. You do not leave your home, and have no doctor's fee to pay. The Doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondents, and is having wonderful success. He is the discoverer of that celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If you write him at once you will doubtless be cured.

The Pains of Rheumatism

According to the best authorities, originate in a morbid condition of the blood. Lactic acid, caused by the decomposition of the galatinous and albuminous tissues, particularly in the joints, and thus causes the local manifestations of the disease. The back and shoulders are the parts usually affected by rheumatism, and the joints at the knees, ankles, hips and wrists are also sometimes attacked. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive and permanent cure for rheumatism. It has had remarkable success in curing the most severe cases. The secret of its success lies in the fact that it attacks at once the cause of the disease by neutralizing the lactic acid and purifying the blood, as well as strengthening every function of the body.

That Columbus Tragedy.

Columbus, O., April 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, who killed her two children at the Park hotel yesterday, was examined by Coroner Herbst in inquest this morning. She was perfectly calm and showed no signs of insanity, relating the story of her domestic troubles, the disregard of her husband for her and the children, her conclusion to end her misery and theirs by murder and suicide, and how she carried the plan into effect. It was only when the bloody razor, found in the room in the hotel, was shown to her that she broke down. After weeping several minutes she said: "Yes, that is the razor with which I cut Harry's throat."

A letter found at the house in Grove City, and addressed to her husband, was shown to her by the coroner. Though it was not signed, she admitted that she wrote it. It was a long letter and in it she upbraided him for his cruelty to his family She said he never cared for anything but his own pleasure and comfort, and that he would have that at any cost. It was enough that he had sent her soul to hell; he had tried to send the souls of their children their too. She plainly announced her determination to kill her children and commit suicide.

Reported Timber Sales.

It is reported that Messrs. F. H. & C W. Goodyear, the great lumber firm, are showing a disposition to gobble up about all the available timber lands in Potter county. It is stated that they have purchased of William Dent about 4,000 acres of timber and the hemlock bark on another tract of 4,000 acres. These tracts are estimated to contain 100,000,000 feet of standing timber, and the price paid, including the bark, is given at $150,000.

We understand that the Goodyears have also secured all the timber belonging to the Peen tanning company in Potter county and adjoining territory at a price of about $1 per thousand feet.

Last week F. H. Goodyear was at Galeton negotiating with Clinton & Sons for the purchase of their mill property and stock of logs and lumber. It is said that the sale was not completed, but a local correspondent thinks that it will be very soon. In that case the Goodyears propose to enlarge the mill to three times its present capacity, and run it all the year around, both night and day. The same writer says that whether the Goodyears buy the Clinton mill or build a new one, Galeton is sure of having a Goodyear mill at that place, and the people are expecting a boom this summer.

If these deals in lumber are all completed the timber lands in Potter county will practically all be in the hands of the Messrs. Goodyear, the Lackawanna lumber company, Weed & Co., Ezra Canfield and Wood & Childs.

Wilson & Isenberg Assign.

Considerable surprise was occasioned this afternoon when the large general merchandise store of Wilson & Isenberg, on Pennsylvania avenue was closed, and a notice posted upon the door announced that the firm had made an assignment for the benefit of creditors to Andrew H. McCamant Esq. No definite statement of assets and liabilities was furnished but the assignee promises such a statement to the public in a few days.

The firm was not obliged to execute the deed of assignment by reason of pressure brought to bear upon them from any particular creditor, but their business was in such condition, with several notes about due and other obligations to be met constituting an emergency, that the best plan for all concerned was thought to be general assignment. No preferences have been made, so that all creditors of the firm will receive the same consideration. Assignee McCamant hopes to have a statement ready in a few days and he believes the indebtedness of the firm can be covered by the property assigned. One of the members of the firm stated that he felt certain that the assets largely exceed the liabilities.

The firm of Wilson & Isenberg in 1891 succeeded VanValzah & Wilson whose business in Tyrone was established in 1872 by J. F. VanValzah and John P. Wilson. The store always held a leading place among Tyrone's business houses. The partners are John F. Wilson and Hon. S. B. Isenburg.—Tyrone Herald.

RHEUMATISM

Preaching for Money.

A week ago last Sunday the pastor of a church in Jamestown, N. Y., announced his resignation to his congregation with the additional fact that he had accepted a call to a church in Rochester. He also added: "I will not claim that this is a special call of the Lord. Perhaps you would not credit me with candor. You have heard that it is the call of a better salary and a larger city. So be it. But will you credit me with some candor in trusting that I may find the Lord, even in Rochester, and do some measure of his work there as well as here?"

There is a frankness about this announcement which will go a long way to inspire confidence in the sincerity of this minister among his old and his new congregation. It will gain him also the respect of those who are attached to neither of these congregations or perhaps to not any. Like a manly man, who wishes to make the best of his life, and to improve to the full the opportunities opened to him to exercise his talent, he decides to go where there is a broader field to work and greater chance to grow and develop. It is only natural that a higher salary should go with these conditions. Like every other profession in life, the better talent in the ministry seeks the city. It is demanded there and needed there. There is harder work to do in the city, and work that commands abler and better trained men, and for such class of service a larger compensation is ready for the preacher as well as for the lawyer, the physician and the journalist.

The day has passed when it was necessary for a preacher to claim that his change from a narrow to a wider field is in obedience to a call from Heaven. His own preference and the fact that he is considered worthy of such a transference is a sufficient indication for Divine guidance. In these days also the preacher is considered worthy of his hire. Time was when it was thought necessary to keep him humbly by doling out a miserable pittance and shaming him by a donation party. Now, the Church is conducted on a business basis and it receives support because it is considered one of the strongest forces for Christianizing, civilizing and enlightening the world. And there is no better way by which this confidence in the Church can be strengthened than by the exercise, on the part of its preachers, of such candor as the Jamestown minister exemplified.

A Serious Question.

The experience of the Government seed shop is of a kind to throw cold water on these theories of socialism which maintain that the people would be benefited if commercial and industrial services were performed by the Government. In fact the total record of that institution gives a very severe jolt to the paternal idea.

For a long time the distribution of Government seeds was characterized by the elements of the lottery comprised in its uncertainties. It may have been exciting to cultivate carefully seeds asserted to be of a rare and curious flower, and to have them turn out to be the luxuriant tomato but the excitement was of a kind apt to produce revilling and a disrespectful attitude of the agricultural mind toward the Government.

After a generation the Government seed business attained the degree of efficiency that the private trade would be expected to have in 20 days. But still the benefit to the people is cast in the shade of painful doubt by the question, how many of the seeds given to Congressmen reach the granger population? The Agricultural Department has bought back for $75 seeds costing the people $225 from Congressmen whose name should not be suffered to pine in obscurity. The further fact that nearly a hundred members of Congress have issued orders for the transfer of their seed quotas makes it very dubious how much of the seeds that the people pay for do the people any good.

In this sort of thing can be done with a little seed business of $190,000 per year what might not be done when politicians could get their fingers into State railroads State mining and other State manufactures amounting to ten times as many millions?

Attempted to Wreck a Train.

Doylestown, Pa., April 2.—Two attempts were made, evidently by disgruntled former trackmen, to wreck the Stoney Creek railroad train due here at 3.25 p. m., yesterday. At a point between Belfry and Acorn stations, as the train was rounding a curve into a cut, Engineer Edward Charles and Fireman Baxter saw a huge log lying across the track. Before the train could be stopped the engine pilot struck the obstruction and threw it aside. Several iron coupling links were found on the rails also at another point nearby, evidently placed there to wreck the train returing if the log failed to do its work.

EDWARD C. HUMES DEAD.

He Expired at Five O'clock This Morning—A Brief Sketch of His Busy Life.

Once again the people of this community have been shocked by the unrelenting grasp of death; the grim destroyer of frail humanity this time carrying off one of the oldest, most influential and best known citizens of the town, in the person of Mr. Edward C. Humes, who passed beyond this vale of tears at five o'clock this morning. With the first gray streaks of dawning day, death stole in and claimed its victim and the spirit of the man who had passed his four-score mark by almost five years was wafted to its eternal rest beyond the dark valley of death.

For several years past Mr. Humes has been failing steadily, although he was almost always able to be in daily attendance at the bank, superintending and transacting business, and it was only about ten days ago, when he was seized with a slight cold, that he was obliged to stay at home and keep to his room. And, although his ailment was nothing alarming yet, owing to his advanced age, it resulted in a general decline which came even more rapidly than was feared, and day by day he grew weaker and weaker. The doctors a couple days ago gave up all hope but even up to last evening no one anticipated that the end was so near. But death came and life stepped out even as the night vanished before the brilliant light of the rising sun.

Mr. Edward C. Humes, the subject of this sketch, was a son of Hon. Hamilton Humes, and was born in Bellefonte August 23rd, 1810, thus being aged 84 years, 7 months and 5 days. His father was one of the first settlers of the town and a very prominent resident, and was postmaster under President Monroe. Edward received his early education in the Bellefonte Academy, under the tutorship of Prof. Alfred Armstrong, and graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, in the year 1829, when but 19 years of age. He then entered the mercantile establishment of his father and filled the position of clerk for a brief time when he was taken into partnership and the firm of H. Humes & Son established. He continued in this business until in 1856 when he, in connection with Hon. H. N. McCallister, Hon. Jas. T. Hale and A. G. Curtin started the banking company of Humes, McCallister, Hale & Co. In 1858 Mr. Humes was elected President of the organization which position he held until in 1864 the firm was merged into the First National Bank, of Bellefonte. Of the new company Mr. Humes was also elected president and has so continued until the present, giving him a term of 37 years as bank president, and making him probably the oldest official in that capacity in the state.

Mr. Humes was married December 3, 1843, to Miss Lucy Alexander, a niece of Mrs. W. W. Potter. His wife preceded him to the tomb a number of years ago, and he is now survived by only two children, Mr. William P. Humes, teller in the First National Bank, and Miss Mira, at home. But he leaves a large circle of friends throughout the state to mourn his death.

Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church and a conscientious gentleman. His life is emblematic of the powers of man. He was endowed with wonderful abilities and the success he made during his life were evidence of how assiduously he applied himself to everything he undertook to do. He succeeded in amassing a large fortune which will aggregate hundreds of thousands. He was a large stockholder in the First National Bank, in the Centre county bank, in the Blair County Banking company, of Tyrone, and has large lumbering interests as well as the possessor of much valuable real estate.

In his life he was genial and social. He never sought for any public or political preferment, but a number of times represented Centre county in State conventions. He was content to live a life among his fellowmen, though ably fitted for greater honors.

Death of Sarah S. Boggs.

We have been requested to copy the following from the Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph:

DIED.—At her residence, No. 98 Boggs Ave, on Wednesday, March 20, at 4:40 p. m., Mrs. Sarah S. Boggs, nee Bennett.

Mrs. Boggs was the third daughter of Benj. Bennett, Esq., of Bellefonte, and a cousin of the late James I. Bennett, of Pittsburg. In 1852 the family removed to Crawford county, where she resided until her marriage with Samuel S. Boggs, of Pittsburg, in 1867. Mrs. Boggs was a woman of rare intellectual gifts, and her energy, hopefulness and executive ability won deserved respect and admiration. Of her time, means, and strength she gave generously to all worthy objects; while her devotion to duty in her large family circle was all that could be desired. Interment was made in Allegheny City on the 22nd instant.

Died at Centre Hall.

James C. Boal, Esq., died at his home in Center Hall, Centre county, at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, from heart trouble. He leaves a wife, who is a sister of S. W. Barr and Mrs. J. M. Harper of this place. He leaves two daughters also, and three brothers and one sister survive him, namely: Shannon, George W. and William A. Boal, all of Centre county, and Mrs. Martha Orlady, widow of the late Dr. Orlady of Petersburg, and mother of George B. Orlady, Esq., of Huntingdon. Mrs. Orlady is now a resident of one of the western states. The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at Center Hall.

Deceased was one of the most substantial citizens of Centre county, and was a man of positive convictions, yet always kind and considerate. A loving and faithful husband and indulgent father, he will be deeply mourned in the household where he has been honored and revered by a devoted family. He was the owner of one of Pennsvalley's most fertile farms, upon which he lived with his family until about a dozen years ago, when they removed to Center Hall, where Mr. Boal has been a justice of the peace for a number of years past. The Center Hall community loses one of her best citizens in the death of Mr. Boal. Strictly honest and honorable, he leaves a record as a good citizen and true man altogether worthy of emulation, to which those who have lived and mingled with him will bear testimony.

Broke His Leg the Fourth Time.

Andrew Jordan, of near Colyer, on Saturday while driving home from Centre Hall in a sleigh, met with an upset, resulting in a broken leg.

Dr. Emerick informs the Reporter that this is the fourth time Mr. Jordan has had his leg broken. Surely he is unfortunate, and must be getting used to it; it beats the record, and yet how thankful he can be that he never broke his neck. This last fracture is of the thigh. He may think that Jordan has a hard road to travel.

The Church Progressing.

The erection of the new United Evangelical church at Tusseyville is progressing nicely. The foundation is dug and filled with stone in readiness for the stone mason. The size of the church is 32x50 and 14x20, with tower 8x8. It will be a handsome structure. Likely the corner stone will be laid April 28th, and church will be ready for dedication some time in July or beginning of August. So far all the hauling of stone and lumber and other work was done gratis.

Valuable Mill Burned.

The Clearfield Lumber Co's big saw mill at Kerrmoor was entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday morning. The mill was 35x120 feet, and was fitted with all necessary and modern machinery, all of which was badly damaged. The plant had been in operation but four days this season when the fire occured. A large amount of timber in the yard was saved. The loss will be from $5,000 to $7,000, partly insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Mercantile Appraiser.

Dr. J. C. McEntire, the Mercantile Appraiser of Centre county commenced his labors several weeks ago and he has already finished up Bellefonte, Howard and Romola, and is getting over the ground as fast as possible. He will close his dental office in Bellefonte for about two months in order to enable him to pursue his duties as an appraiser. On the 1st day of June, '95, he will hold an appeal in the Commissioner's office in Bellefonte where those who think they are appraised too high can attend if they so desire.

A GREAT AGREEMENT.
25,000 Physicians of One Mind.
Food for Strength First.—Medicine for Cure Second.—The Least Food that will give Most Nourishment, the Kind.
In this enlightened age, the old theory held by physicians—to get as much medicine in the least possible time into the system of a patient, even at the expense of stomach, blood, brains, nerves, and often, in the end, life itself—has been abandoned.
The old way was to "dose." If the patient had a tremendous constitution, he sometimes "pulled through;" if not, which was more often the case, that special disease was considered more dangerous, as it had claimed another for its own.
But this is all changed now. All prominent physicians agree on one subject, anyway. It is this—build the patient up first, give him new blood and strength, add flesh to his bones. He's then ready to receive the benefit of proper medical treatment.
To do this effectually, that must be given which will, in the least quantity, produce the greatest amount of vitality,—not a stimulant which quickly reacts disastrously, but a genuine food, a muscle, bone, and blood maker. Such a food was long sought for, and at last discovered in that original and only raw food extract—Bovinine.
By the use of this wonderful life-generating preparation, every organ of the body becoming strengthened by nourishment, naturally begins to perform its ordinary functions, and at once the patient is on the road to recovery.
It is this result, obtained in hundreds of cases where Bovinine has been used, that has caused its indorsement by 25,000 prominent physicians in America.
In addition, thousands who have been benefited can vouch for the wonderful results obtained by the use of Bovinine, for invalids, the old, convalescents, the over-worked, or, in fact, all who have found it necessary to maintain strength, flesh, and vigor.

Terry's Silvereen.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Sivereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons. Send at once as this offer is for 60 days only.

Price of Silvereen set $2.00.

Methodist Ministers Reassigned.

It has already been intimated in the Tribune that some change in the appointments made at the late Central Pennsylvania sonference of the Methodist Episcopal church, held at Tyrone, might be made. This intimation was confirmed yesterday morning by Presiding Elder Monroe, who had just returned from Washington, D. C., where he had been in consultation with Bishop Newman, and who gave the information that Rev. Mr. Mosser would go to Chambersburg, according to the original appointment, that Rev. J. W. Rue, for four years pastor of the Chestnut Avenue congregation, will go to Bellefonte, and that Rev. G. Tarring Gray will come to the Chestnut Avenue church. Some few other changes are yet within the range of possibility, but of these nothing can be said with any degree of assurance at present.—Altoona Tribune.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was incurable. For a great many years the doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven crtarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. W. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

An Unfortunate Road.

The Beech Creek road is having some hard luck this spring. About ten days ago, the worst wreck in its history occurred at Gorton, where an unmanageable engine dashed into a coal train and smashed thousands of dollars worth of property. This was followed on last Friday by two more wrecks, resulting in the demolishment of thirty cars. At Schryver, train No. 3 ran into a landslide, derailing and wrecking about sixteen cars and delaying traffic until Saturday morning. One of the trainmen was slightly scalded by escaping steam. At about the same time another eastbound coal train on the same road was wrecked near Mapes, causing much damage to a dozen or more cars. The crew escaped uninjured.

The Whisky Trust Muddle.

Chicago, March 28.—In addition to the suits which will probably be brought by the receiver of the Whisky Trust to recover from the old directory nearly $2,000,000 on the difference in the price of the par value of 34,984 shares of stock, there will be brought the last of this week or the first of next, suits in the name of the receiver to recover a large sum on cattle feeding contracts, let by President Greenhut and his friends to himself and Nelson Morris. These contracts cover an extended period. The charge will be made that the contracts were let at a much lower figure than the market price and the stockholders therefore are the losers by a large amount. How much there is will be a matter for the court to determine.

"WHERE DIRT GATHERS, WASTE RULES."
GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM THE USE OF SAPOLIO

She Put Him Out.

The lawsuit brought by Miss Anna Dickinson in the United States Court against her persecutors, as she alleges, now on trial at Scranton, Penn'a., calls to mind an incident which occurred in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., during the political campaign of 1863 when the late Ex-Governor Curtin was a candidate for election to a second term.

Miss Dickinson, was engaged by the Republican State Central Committee of Pennsylvania to deliver a number of lectures throughout the state on the importance of prosecuting the war to a successful termination on the part of the government of the United States, to accomplish which, the election of Governor Curtin to a second term was an absolute necessity.

A meeting at Wilkes-Barre was called and was largely attended by citizens of both political parties; attracted there, no doubt, by the well known abilties of the lecturer. When she made the declaration that the re-election of Governor Curtin was essential to the successful prosecution of the war, a shrill hiss came from one of the audience the perpetrator of which proved to be a brother of the, then, Democratic candidate for Prothonotary of Luzerne county.

A number of gentlemen immediately arose from their seats, and at the same time shouting, "put him out," "out him out!" when the lady lecturer, with her usual presence of mind, immediately grasped the situation, and, by motions of her hand, attracted the attention of the audience who responded by taking their seats.

When quiet was restored she said "there are only two things on earth which hiss; one is a goose and the other a snake, young man seek your level and waggle out," at the same time giving emphasis to the remark by gesturing with her hand.

The thunders of applause which followed this ready and witty remark of the lecturer, put a quietus on further demonstrations of a disrespectful character during that memorable evening. It is quite likely, that the enthusiastic Democrat who placed himself in that position by his indiscretion, still entertains a keen recollection of Miss Dickinson's lecture.

A Course of Lectures.

The Centre Hall Reporter says:

Rev. Ira C. Mitchell, of Bellefonte, will deliver a series of discourses of deep interest, in this place, within the next few weeks. The subject will be "Man and His Destiny, Scripturally and Scientifically Considered." The first discourse to be delivered in the Reformed church, on Sunday, April 7th, at 7 o'clock.

The next discourse will be in the Lutheran church, on Sunday evening, April 21.

Rev. Mitchell will produce ideas new and original in treating his subjects, and his well-known ability is a guarantee that his discourses will be of deepest interest.

The topics covered by his discourses will be as follows:

1st. God's eternal purpose in creating the world and man.
2d. What is man?
3d. What is life? What is death?
4th. The state of the dead.
5th. Man's final destiny, involving his condition and his home.

Looking for a Site.

S. L. Boggs, of Allegheny is looking for a site for the location of a factory for cast iron enameled bath tubs and plumbing goods and, he says, the plant would employ from 75 to 100 men, whose weekly pay would average from $1,000 to $1,300. This might be a plant Bellefonte could accommodate, if Mr. Boggs don't want the earth with a fence around it.

A Novelty in Holding Up Trains.

There is something of novelty about the attempted train robbery down in Kentucky yesterday. The customary proceeding has been for about half a dozen masked desperadoes to halt a train, shoot an engineer or express messenger, order all hands up, plunder the express safes and passengers' valuables and escape without leaving a clew. The robbers in this case were prepared to go through the usual formula, and got so far as to order all hands up.

Then the unexpected happened. The hands that went up held guns, and so true was the aim of the armed guards they shot down three robbers. Before farther execution could be done the other three fled, and were lost in the fastnesses of the wild region where the robbery was attempted. The railroad company was as well prepared for business as the bandits.

It is safe to predict train robbing will not have a popular boom along the Queen and Crescent road for some time. It costs something to keep detectives on the train for several months, but that expense was in the interest of true economy. It saved valuable property from the intended thieves and will have a tendency to check the train robbing industry for a time. A few guns and men who know how to use them are excellent things to have with train cargoes.

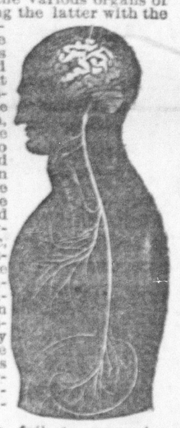
Two Men Hold Up a Train.

Bismarck, Mo., March 28.—Two men held up a passenger train on the Iron Mountain railroad, at Williamsville, a station about twenty miles north of Popular Bluffs, at 11.30 last night. The robbers had only secured the conductors's gold watch when they were frightened off. It is believed the men are farmers living in the vicinity and a posse is in pursuit of them with good prospects of running them down.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.



Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

AGED LOVERS QUARREL.

One is in the Hospital and the Other in Prison.

Philadelphia, March 31.—Suffering from a fractured shoulder and internal injuries that promise to end in his death, Samuel Dutton, aged 62 years, of Chester, occupies a cot in the Pennsylvania hospital and Mrs. Josephine Ibbetson, aged 45, is in a cell of Moyamensing prison, charged with responsibility for his injuries.

Dutton came to the city from Chester yesterday afternoon and called on Mrs. Ibbetson, who occupied a front room on the third floor of No. 1221 Kater street. The rest of the house is occupied by William Wallace and his family. Mrs. Ibbetson informed Mrs. Wallace that Dutton was her lover and that she had been "keeping company" with him for five years. The pair spent the afternoon together and parted at 6 o'clock Saturday evening after a quarrel.

The aged lover returned to the house about 10 o'clock, informing the Wallace family that he would go up and say goodbye to the woman before leaving the city. He disappeored up stairs and that was the last seen of him by any of the inmates of the house, except Mrs. Ibbetson's son, until the policeman aroused them and called their attention to the man on the pavement in front of the house.

An open window in the room occupied by Mrs. Ibbetson indicated that Dutton had fallen from that point to the pavement. When he recovered consciousness, shortly after his arrival at the hospital, he said he had fallen from the window. He followed this with a statement that he knew nothing from the time he fell asleep on a chair in the woman's room until his arrival at the hospital.

Mrs. Ibbertson was taken to the second district police station, where she was given a hearing this morning and was held to await the result of Duttan's injuries. She stoutly denied that she was implicated in any way with Dutton's mishap alleging that the trouble in the afternoon was only a lovers' quarrel, and that she was engaged to be married to him. At the hospital to-night it was not thought that the injured man could recover.

The Drouth Broken.

Topeka, Kansas, March 31.—Kansas has been pretty well soaked to-day, especially in the central and eastern portions. Good rains have fallen as far west as Philipsburg, Sterling and Caldwell, the rains being very warm. A blizzard struck the northeastern part of the state this afternoon and will reach here early to-morrow. The fruit buds are in a very critical condition and a freeze cannot but injure the crop, especially peaches and apricots. Farmers are well along with their spring work and the soil is in excellent condition.

Denver, Colo., March 31.—The heavy snow fall of Saturday disappeared rapidly to-day under a warm sun and the railroads, though threatened with washouts from the flood, are moving their trains nearly on time. The snow was a phenomenal one, the heaviest fall—forty-two inches—being reported at Landor, Wyoming. The storm extended into northern New Mexico and Texas.

Chicago, March 31.—The drouth which has prevailed for a number of weeks in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, was broken to-day by a heavy rainfall, causing a decided improvement in crop prospects. Rain continues to fall in Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Pominent Republicans Meet.

New York, March 31.—In accordance with an expressed wish of ex-United States Senator Platt, a number of state senators and republican political leaders called upon him at the Fifth Avenue hotel this afternoon for the purpose of talking over the various reform measures now before the senate for final disposition, as well as other political matters.

The outcome of the conference is said to be that orders were given by Mr. Platt to his respective leaders present to use their influence and pass the bills referred to and see that seventeen republican senators were constantly in their seats, that number being sufficient to carry them through.

Saddle Factory Burned.

Newark, N. J., March 31.—Fire destroyed the large Weiner saddle factory at Ervington this afternoon, entailing a loss of $40.000 on which there was $21,000 insurance.

The Margott novelty company's works on the east and Noble press works on the west of the Weiner manufactory were each damaged to the extent of about $3,000. During the progress of the fire a barrel containing chemicals exploded in in the ruins of the Weiner factory, hurling the debris over an area of about two hundred feet. Fortunately no one was injured.

Miners Will Consider.

Columbus, Ohio, March 27.—When the State Miners' association meets here next Tuesday, the question of the scale of wages will engross special attention on account of the recent combination of interests made by coal operators. The miners are disposed to doubt the statement of the operators that their organization is not formed to advance prices, and a strong effort will be made to secure the adoption of a sliding scale, so that if there should be an advance in prices the miners can get part of the benefit.

Ashland and Centralia expect to be connected by an electric road.

In Other Counties.

The Johnstown Democrat is authority for the statement that the Cambria Iron company is making surveys in its yards at the works preparatory to arranging for the use of the direct process in the manufacture of steel. The change is to be made during the coming summer and will involve an outlay of several thousand dollars.

The commissioners of McKean county have raised the valuation of timber land to $12 an acre and the owners are dissatisfied.

The seventy-sixth anniversary of Odd Fellowship will be celebrated in an appropriate manner at Punxsutawney on April 26.

William, son of Joseph R. Irwin, of Curwinsville, died a few days ago of Bright's disease, aged 13 years and 10 months.

By the end of this month, March, a large number of foundries out of blast during the winter will begin operations in the Schuykill valley.

The Lackawanna county jail contains 113 prisoners at the present time. Three of these are murders and two or three are under sentence of death.

Catasauqua is to have a Dubsite church to accomodate the growing congregation of that sect, which has become very large within the past six months.

The Americans Paradise.

It is an old saying, that "Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris;" but the majority of Americans, good and bad alike, in these days of rapid ocean transit, don't wait until they have passed from this mundane sphere, but embrace the first favorable opportunity, of visiting la belle France, and many and ludicrous are the episodes resulting from the lack of knowledge of the French language and customs. In a most amusing and handsomely illustrated article, "An American's Mistakes in Paris," published in Demorest's Magazine for April, the trials and blunders of one American are told in a highly entertaining style; and while one laughs heartily at the visitor's mishaps, the causes that brought them about are made so clear that those who read will be forarmed, on these special points, at least, when their turn comes to visit the "Americans' Paradise." Another illustrated paper on travel, "Nileistic Experiences," is equally entertaining and unique, and introduces one to many amusing characteristics of modern Egyptians and their donkeys. "In the land of Lilliput" is most profusely illustrated with portraits of midgets who have been prominent in public since the time of Tom Thumb, and the accompanying narrative is specially interesting. Seven of New York's most prominent clergymen tell how their denominations celebrate Easter, and their reasons for doing so, and there are several poems appropriate to the season. The story matter is very attractive, and every department is filled with bright and helpful suggestsons. This is an especially good number of that excellent family magazine, published by W. Jennings Demorest, at 15 East 14th Street, New York, for $2 a year.

The Blindfolding of Justice.

Three prisoners who were placed in the Eastern Penitentiary, of this State, recently, prove how unevenly the scales of justice sometimes swing. Walter Driver, a poor colored man, of Norristown, convicted of stealing chickens, was sentenced four years. At New Bloomfield Ex-Bankers Sponsler and Junkins, found guilty of embezzling about $112,000 of depositors' funds, were punished by a sentence of one year each.

VIGOROUS HEALTH & MANHOOD
Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille
CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK
Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.
Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.
FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.
We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $5 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.
Trade Mark. SENT POST PAID IN A SEALED PACKAGE.
These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.
We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

A Faithful Pastor.

Of Rev. Samuel Creighton's retirement from the Lewistown pastoratet owing to ill health, the Free Press of tha. place says: The Methodists of the town feel sorry to have to part with the pastor, Rev. Samuel Creighton, who has been so faithful to their interests during the six months he has been here. During that time the congregation has so increased that on last Sunday night the large audience room could not hold all the people who were anxious to attend. The Sunday school has been greatly increased during his pastorate, the attendance last Sunday being 367.

Work to be Resumed at Reservoir.

Thomas Collns, one of the contractors constructing the impounding dam at Kittanning Point, is in the city making preparations for resuming work on the new reservoir which will be completed as soon as possible. A large force of men will be put to work just as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The work to be completed this spring is the building of the "intake" tower, the completion of the embankment, also the finishing and paving of the spillway. A gate house will also be built.—Altoona Times.

Getting Ready for Pensioners.

Captain Skinner is getting ready for the quarterly rush of pensioners which will begin next Thursday. There are 2,100 pensioners in the district who will be benefited by the new law providing that all pensioners shall receive not less than $6 a month. One-half the number were getting $2 and the rest $4, which will make an increase of $3 a month. As they get the benefit of the new law for only one month, this quarter the increase in the amount of money to be paid out will be only $6,300.

The Tramp Nuisance.

Bellefonte policemen are at their wits' ends to know just how to overcome the tramp nuisance that, at present, exists here. The town and vicinity is literally overrun with hobos and every chilly night the lockup is crowded full. Why not put them to work on the streets, same as they do in other towns? That might cure them.

Funeral of E. C. Humes.

The funeral of the late Edward C. Humes occurred on Monday afternoon at three o'clock and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors who assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to one who was so well and favorably known by all. The remains, encased in a handsome cloth covered casket, reposed in the large east parlor and were viewed by everybody present. The dead looked as if only in sleep, the icy touch of the dread destroyer having left nothing to betoken the result of his work save immortality for mortality.

The solemn funeral services were opened with music by a selected quartette after which Rev. Laurie read a portion of scripture and offered prayer. He then preached a most fitting and appropriate sermon, referring feelingly to various periods in the life of the deceased and speaking words of consolation to the hearts of the afflicted ones.

From the residence the funeral cortege wended its way to the Union cemetery where interment was made. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers. Gov. D. H. Hastings, William Shortledge, J. Fearon Mann, Robert Valentine, A. O. Furst, James A. Beaver, John G. Love, P. Gray Meek, C. M. Bower, E. A. Iryin, of Curwensville; A. G. Morris, Tyrone, and B. Weber, of Howard. The floral offerings were most profuse and appropriate. They consisted of Easter lillies, roses, carnations, etc., and were gifts from the banks and loving friends.

A Minute of the Church Session.

The Session of the Presbyterian Church of Bellefonte herewith places on record its sense of deep feeling in the loss of Edward C. Humes, who died at his residence in Bellefonte on the morning of the 28th of March, 1895, in the 85th year of his age.

He was not only a child of the Covenant, but a son of an Elder of this Church; his father, Hamilton Humes, having served in that capacity for many years. He united with the church August 22, 1846, and was elected Elder November 7th 1863, and served continuously in that capacity, until the time of his death.

He was faithful in the attendance upon all the ordinances of the church, conscientious in the discharge of every duty, a wise and faithful counsellor, loyal to the church in all of its interests and devoted to its welfare.

He was a man of unusual mental force, and, although a college graduate, was reticent in the expression of his thoughts. His intellectual force, clear thought and cultured mind qualified him for taking high rank in the discussion of all the questions relating to the welfare of the church, but his modesty and love of retirement prevented him from taking the place in Councils of the Church for which he was so richly endowed, and to which he was clearly entitled.

He was a man of domestic tastes and habits and was warmly endeared to the members of his family, within the sacred precincts of whose home his qualities of heart were best known and most lovingly manifested.

His death leaves a large space in the church which will not soon be filled. He came to his "grave in full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season." Although suffering much pain in the closing hours of his life, his mind and heart were stayed upon the truths of Scripture and the Hymns, [illegible] boyhood descriptive of the Better Land.

Regret the Departure of their Pastor.

A largely attended congregational meeting was held at the Chestnut Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last night, the purpose being to gain an understanding as to the recent change in arrangements whereby Rev. J. W. Rue has been assigned to Bellefonte. Presiding Elder Monroe was present, and after having given the desired information a free expression of acquiescence in the arrangements as made was given, although there is regret on the part of many that Mr. Rue will be taken away from this field. The general sentiment was that Rev. G. Tarring Gray will be cordially received and given all possible encouragement in order that the coming church year may be one, under God, of blessing and prosperity.—Altoona Tribune.

Clean the Premises.

The advent of warmer weather should recall to the mind of every householder the necessity of cleaning up the accumulations of winter about the premises. This is urged not only for appearance sake, but for the more forcible sanitary reasons. Those scattered heaps of refuse, hidden and rendered harmless by the snows of the winter, are now exposed in all their unsightliness and danger. They are disease breeders of the first water. Don't delay the spring clean-up. Prompt action may save doctor bills.

—The Tyrone Herald says: C. C. Clemson, who has been the efficient bookkeeper for Goheen Bros. in their East Tyrone store for a number of years, packed up his household goods to-day and shipped them to Williamsburg, where he and his family will make their future home. Tyrone loses an excellent citizen and a very congenial gentleman in the departure of Mr. Clemson, and we bespeak for him in his new position as manager of the Carlim Supply Company's store, at Carlim, prosperity and success.

FOSTER'S PREDICTION.

It Will Be Soon Time Before Gentle Spring Will Drive Winter into Retirement.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm-wave to cross the continent from March 20 to April 3, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about April 3, cross the western mountain country by the close of the 5th, the great central valley from the 7th to 8th, and the eastern states about the 9th.

This storm will bring remarkable extremes and radical changes in the weather Summer heat will prevail for a few days previous to the storm wave dates, and then a drop in the temperature that will send frosts far southward. This cool wave, in places a real cold wave, will keep the temperature below normal for a week following.

Severe local storms may be expected accompanying this storm wave, and, making allowance for a month's progress toward summer, the weather will be very like that which occurred about following March 10.

The warm wave will cross the western mountain country about April 4, the great central valleys the 6th and the eastern states the 8th. The cool wave will cross the western mountain country about the 7th, the great central valleys the 9th and the eastern states the 11th.

During the period covered by this storm wave, including the cool wave, rainfall will be very light in the northern states. More rain will fall in the southern states, but will not be well distributed, and a few localities will have too much, many others not enough rain.

The third storm wave of April will reach the Pacific coast about the 10th, cross the western mountain country by the close of the 11th, the great central valleys from the 12th to 15th, and the eastern states the 16th.

The warm wave will cross the western mountain country about the 10th, great central valleys 12th, eastern states 14th. The cool wave will cross the western mountain country about 13th, the great central valleys 15th, and the eastern states 17th.

This storm wave will cause a more general distribution of rainfall, and, taking the whole country, an increase in precipitation. The weather will average much cooler than in the first week of the month.

Epworth League Convention.

The Epworth League, the young people's society of the Methodist Episcopal church, whose phenomenal growth in five years to a total of 16,000 societies, with a million and a half of members, has been one of the most striking of recent religious developments, will hold a great four-day convention in Philadelphia, May 13-26, 1895, under the auspices of the fourth general conference league, which embraces all the chapters within the Baltimore, Pittsburg, Erie, West Virginia, Washington, Central Pennsylvania and Philadelphia conferences. Every society is entitled to send two delegates. In Philadelphia elaborate preparations are being made to entertain the hosts of delegates expected. The opening reception will occur in the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, and the succeeding sessions in the Academy of Music. Speakers of national renown have been secured, and the program includes many practical and interesting features, among others an afternoon's sight-seeing of the famous historic points of interest in the Quaker City, with a ramble in its beautiful Fairmount park.

Keep Before the People.

A man who inserts a small advertisement once or twice a year and then looks for a rush of business for the next twelve months is like the fellow who takes a bath on New Year's day and expects perfect health during the remainder of the year. Regularity is an essential element in both and an ad unless inserted to make known something of special importance will not pay if it is not kept constantly before the people. Name of business men and the location of their stores are soon forgotten when the ads are taken from the columns of the local newspaper and this the wide awake merchant never fails to remember. Doing business upon the theory that every body knows him, what he sells and where his store is, has been rejected by every up to date seller of goods in the land.

Fire at Lock Haven.

A barn belonging to Erank P. Beardsley, situated in the First ward, Lock Haven, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The barn is occupied by Irvin Martin, groceryman, corner of Henderson and Church streets, and his horse, wagon and buggy were in it at the time.

The fire was discovered by Policeman Brindle and he succeeded in getting out the horse and vehicles. The structure was entirely destroyed in a short time. A number of barns in the vicinity and the bark sheds at Herring & Myers' tannery caught fire from flying sparks, but the flames were quickly subdued by the fire department.

It Depends.

A young lady asked an editor this extraordinary question: "Do you think it right for a girl to sit on a young man's lap even if she is engaged?" Whereupon the editor told this extraordinary lie: "We have had no experience in the matter referred to." Why didn't he say: "If it was our girl and our lap, yes; yes; if it was another fellow's girl and our lap, yes; but if it was our girl and another fellow's lap, never! never! never!"

New Coupler Device.

A number of passenger coaches of the Pennsylvania railroad have been equipped with a new device for uncoupling Janney couplers, which takes the place of the old vertical lever pivoted on the platform. This new device is a vertical shaft terminating at the top in a hinged lever. It is considered an improvement on the old style.

Our Centennial.

About a year or more ago the first announcement was made that Bellefonte would celebrate her centennial anniversary this summer—in June. Every since that there has been a tremendous lot of wind work done, but nothing material. About six months ago, Lycoming county conceived the project of celebrating its centennial also during the early summer months, and already the citizens of that county have organized, raised a large fund and are pushing the movement with a vigor that promises a great success.

On the strength of Bellefonte's proposed centennial the Bellefonte fire companies secured the district firemen's convention for this place, as an extra means of drawing a large crowd. The fire boys are already hard at work to make a pronounced success of their undertaking but what about the remainder of the centennial. The Curtin monument was to be dedicated one day, but so far the committees having this in charge have done absolutely nothing, and the prospects for a Curtin monument are very little brighter than they were ten years before Curtin was dead. The dedication of a new public building was to be one day's proceedings, but this, we know, will not take place, and in its stead, we might dedicate the new Lamb street bridge.

Now, there is no use mincing matters. If the people of Bellefonte want a centennial, and want to make a success of it, they will have to get down to work and do something. Let the committee which has been appointed by council meet with the Chief Curgess and devise a plan of action. Let there be a public meeting of citizens called and a complete organization effected, and let the good work go on and the well known mountain town sustain its reputation for doing everything right which it undertakes to do.

Change in the Uniform.

It is determined that somewhat of a change in the uniform of the officers of the regular army will be made, which means that the reform will extend to the officers of the National Guard. The braid is to be removed from the blouse and the garment is to remain perfectly plain except the insignia of rank, company and regiment will remain on the shoulder and collar. This will be a decided improvement over the gingerbread trimming, and will take away from the coat the finish that is proper on the uniform of a brass band member but altogether foreign to good taste for the fatigue uniform of a military officer. The chasseur cap is to give way to a cap similar to that worn by the navy. In circumference it is the same at the top as at the bottom, and is rather high with a pointed, protruding visor, giving it a rakish appearance. While the change on the blouse will be a decided improvement, the cap is not likely to be improved. The visor should be left its present shape as a protection or shade for the eyes, but perhaps the inventor of the new visor had a notion of effectiveness when coming in contact with an enemy, as his new invention will be somewhat the shape of the bill of a woodpecker, which that bird uses to penetrate the tree in search of its daily rations of insects and grubs.

Centennial Anniversary.

On Tuesday April 9, at 10.30 o'clock, a. m., in the Presbyterian church at Huntingdon, public services commemorative of the centennial anniversary of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, will be held to continue afternoon and evening. At sinking Spring church, in Centre county, April 9, 1795, the Presbytery was organized.

A neat booklet containing the program and invitation is being issued, two leaves of which is being issued, two leaves of which are of paper made over one hundred years ago near Philadelphia. This booklet also contains a list of the original members of the Huntingdon congregation, with their subscriptions to the support of the pastor in pounds, shillings and pence; also the names of the seven pastors who have ministered to the church in the past century.
